Defeat Bond Issue

On Tuesday the citizens of Jacksonville will be asked to vote on a proposition to issue $150,000 worth of bonds to rehabilitate the city water plant. The proposition calls for the issue of these bonds to run for a period of years and draw 4 1/2 per cent interest. The amount paid out would be much more than the original $150,000, all to be paid from water revenue.

Since the plans for the proposed improvement were begun, other needs have developed. The city could use additional water storage space. It is estimated that the present lakes are adequate for a city of perhaps 10,000, while the present sewer system in the city would accommodate a population of 50,000. Twice in the past few years the city has had to tide over a water shortage as best it could.

The fund asked in the bond issue covers only improvements to the water plant itself and would not be adequate for construction of a new dam or providing land for a new lake. However, this money can be secured from the government, both for the plant improvement and the additional water storage project. It can be secured thru a loan and grant from the PWA with 45 percent of the money being given outright to the city, and the rest loaned with interest at 3 per cent, repayable from water revenue.

It seems preferable to undertake the larger plan and to reject for the time being the plant improvement bond issue. If this is defeated at the polls Tuesday, it will be out of the way and the more attractive and less burdensome plan can be considered.

Under such circumstances the voters should vote against the bond issue. The present city administration favors the rehabilitation of the water plant and will begin at once seeking a government loan and grant that will provide the city better water facilities than it could hope to secure thru the pending bond issue.

Do The Unusual

Most people do the same things every day. They take lunch at the same restaurant, drive to work over the same route, visit the same places of amusement, meet the same people. In order to vary the monotony, they take short vacations in the summer and go to the same place they visited last year.

For the great mass of people this doing the same thing is no hardship. They get used to it and would really feel strange doing anything or going anywhere out of the ordinary. Perhaps it is just as well for a stable society that people are thus addicted to routine.

But the world is big and the vast majority of those who live in it have by no means seen all of it. New places can be visited today with greater ease than ever before; new experiences are within reach of everyone, even if they consist only in traveling a different route on the way to work. It is possible to get a little change of scene even without leaving town, unless one lives in a very small town.

Some may object that a person who goes out of his way to seek new thrills is lowering his efficiency and making his work harder. Like a rolling stone, he will gather no moss. But who wants to gather moss, especially if it sticks to the back? And after all a rolling stone does get rather well polished.

Organized Crime Gone

State's Attorney Courtney of Cook county, in a recent address, declared that organized crime in Chicago is practically gone. A "somewhat aroused citizenry" was given credit for the triumph, which has been real when it is considered that organized crime once had the great metropolis literally by the throat.

Mr. Courtney pointed out that Americans had been taught to consider enforcement of laws against crime as the "other fellow's business."

That attitude is giving way to a more militant attitude toward the criminal and all his works. Public sentiment can and will break the power of the underworld.

The awakening of a sense of responsibility in the mind of every citizen will ultimately bring Chicago and every other American city freedom from the "black hand" of crime. The swift justice now being meted out to the evil-doer is convincing him that crime does not pay and that he can no longer get away with it.

Short Comment

With the blue eagle reduced to a skeleton, maybe business can grow fat.

There is a new note out foot to look the rich, but no relief from business in sight as the rest of us.

Cabinet-making has been as popular in Europe the past week as the chain letter was in this country.

The Chinese are wondering whether they ought to fight or get licked peacefully.

A high government official in a recent address shouted enthusiastically, "The first thing to do is re-elect Theodore Roosevelt." We tried that in 1912 and look what happened.

A man who fell from a horse owes its owner for $50,000. The lawyers will get a kick out of that.

A Russian official has suggested that his country import some "American brains." Here's a chance for our brain trust to do some business.

The new food and drug law carries a provision that the Federal Trade Commission may edit advertising matter. The advertising published by the great American press needs no editing by government inspectors. The provision is just one more effort to throttle the press.

A 71-year-old woman was arrested in a raid on a bookmaking place. She probably had mistaken the joint for a library.

Camps And Fires

The camping season is here. Newly-built government trails in national forests and parks have increased the range of the camper and brought new grounds into use. The motor car has turned the city dweller into a summer camper by the thousand.

The greatest danger from this increase in camping is from fire. Those who go into the forests to camp must learn how to handle fires. If the nation is to have its woodlands properly safeguarded, the lad who goes to an organized camp is not the chief offender; he is taught how to build and control fires. The principal enemy is the camper with a car who stops overnight and leaves his campfire smoldering, so that any chance gust of wind may scatter it thru the woods. He is the motorist who carelessly tosses a cigarette or cigar into the dry leaf mould at the side of the trail.

The camping season brings these dangers. Every camper and vacationing motorist should feel a responsibility for the safety of the public domain thru which he travels. He should be cautious at all times and see that his cigarette is out before he throws it away, and that his overnight campfire has been extinguished before he continues his journey.

The Search Goes On

The kidnapping for ransom of little George Weyerhaeuser came as an unpleasant shock to a nation which was beginning to think that energetic action by federal authorities, in cooperation with local police units, had just about destroyed the "snatch racket."

Nevertheless, despite this new evidence that gangland is not yet cowed, the story is only half told, so far.

The kidnaper boy is safe at home again, and the pursuit can go ahead without fear that it will endanger his life. And the thing to remember is that the Department of Justice has shown an admirable capacity for getting on a trail and staying there to the bitter end, no matter how long it may take or how many obstacles may be in the way.

It is a fairly safe bet that ultimately the men who kidnaped this west coast lad will pay a pretty stiff penalty for their deed. The crime in itself does not by any means prove that our current anti-crime drive has failed.

'Comes The Revolution'

If you buy a meal in Wisconsin nowadays, and pay more than 25 cents for it, you have to eat some cheese with it. Or, to be exact, you have to buy some cheese, whether you eat it or not. This is under the terms of a new law, signed recently by Governor La Follette, designed to stimulate consumption of Wisconsin's dairy products.

Maybe you don't like cheese? You'll buy it anyhow. And it somehow reminds one of the story of the radical who was haranguing a group of bums on the beauties of Communism. When the revolution came, he assured them, they would all eat strawberries and cream for breakfast.

One brave soul objected, saying that he didn't like strawberries and cream. The orator wagged his finger sternly and shouted: "Comes the revolution and you'll eat strawberries and cream—and like it!"

THE WHITE EAGLE

revolution and you'll eat strawberries and cream—and like it!"

And in Wisconsin, you'll eat cheese, nowadays—and like it.

To the Editor of The Illinois State Register: HOLLYWOOD, Calif., June 8.—To read what all these critics of our country write, you would naturally think that everybody else was just sitting pretty. But France has offered their premiership to everybody over there but Chevalier, and they know he is too smart to take it. England just today traded horses right in the middle of Thames river. Half of Italy has gone to Africa with a gun on their shoulder. Japan is just looking over Chinese maps, to see where to send their army. Russia must be in some dilemma, we never hear of 'em any more. So you see there is none of 'em that we can point with pride to. It's just a bad time to be in the government-running business anywhere. (Copyright, 1935)

Behind The Scenes In Washington

New Deal May Be Staggered, but It Still Needs Space and More Space for Help . . . Just See All the Jobs That Keller Got for His Home Folks . . . Think of It! A Real Poet in Congress.

By RODNEY DUTCHER (Journal-Courier Washington Correspondent)

Washington—Try to understand it if you can. At a time when the New Deal is popularly supposed to have received a crushing, decimating blow from the U. S. Supreme Court, it is actually bulging out of the District of Columbia into Maryland and Virginia.

Mr. Roosevelt's administration filled all the old office buildings, moved into thousands of new offices created by Mr. Hoover's big federal building program, and gradually came to occupy every spare inch of space in private office buildings through the city.

Now Dr. Tugwell is trying to move his cramped Rural Settlement Administration—which will have several hundred employees—across the Potomac to Arlington, Va., where the Agricultural Department has an experimental plant.

The Census Bureau will set up headquarters for its next big special census in Baltimore and other agencies are also investigating space in the Maryland city.

They Howl for Space
Dr. Morris Cooke and his Rural Electrification Administration are quartered at the old James G. Blaine mansion off Du Pont Circle. Sections of other agencies are in what used to be apartments.

The fellow who is charged with finding space for the New Deal—and is suffering from incipient claustrophobia—has been trying to get an option on the big Washington auditorium as well as other mansions. Dismantling of NRA will help the problem a bit, but government officials are clawing for its space like a pack of hyenas and at last reports various agencies—especially those concerned with work relief—still needed 300,000 to 400,000 more square feet.

Look What Kent Did
About 80 young people had a big party the other night for Congressman Kent Keller of Illinois, who had gotten them all jobs in Washington. Keller had the boys and girls rise and tell how well they were getting along—thanks to Congressman Keller. Then he told them about other of his constituents who had good federal jobs outside Washington, naming them off and referring to their nice salaries.

"Keep your eyes open for other jobs we can get for southern Illinois," the congressman urged. Then he noticed Joe Tumulty, once Woodrow Wilson's secretary, seated at a nearby table. He demanded a few words from Joe.

Joe spoke. His topic: Gratitude.

And Also What Fritz Did
No end of congressman have perpetrated poetry. But Representative Fritz Garland Lanham of Fort Worth, Tex., recently wrote the words to a song which he named "Blue Bonnet Sweetheart" for the Blue Bonnet luncheon of the Business and Professional Women's Club in his home city.

Just so you won't miss the point, here's the chorus:
"Blue bonnets over the prairie, blue bonnet over her hair,
Blue bonnie skies and her blue bonnie eyes
Make Texas so fair it's beyond all compare:
The old 'Lone Star State' is not lonely.
With her as lone star to shine:
Let me back day and night in that heavenly light
With that blue bonnet sweetheart of mine!"

The printer made a bad mistake in the picture of the girl on the title page—which will be corrected later. He put a red bonnet on her! (Copyright, 1935, NEA Service, Inc.)

80 Year Old Co-ed Gets Degree; Once Was Student Here

Mrs. Lillian G. Gist Among Claremont Graduates; Attended MacMurray

Claremont, Calif.—A sprightly, five-foot figure in cap and gown, Mrs. Lillian G. Gist, 80-year-old great-grandmother, today stepped forth from a group of youthful companions and was awarded the Master of Arts degree from the Claremont Colleges.

Just sixty years ago she was graduated from Illinois Woman's College at Jacksonville, Ill., now MacMurray College, with the degree of Mistress of Liberal Arts. Colleges then gave no Bachelor's degrees to women students.

There was a twinkle in her kindly blue eyes as she bowed to receive her diploma from President James A. Blaisdell. Present at the exercises were three of her children.

"I didn't want my boys to be ashamed of me," Mrs. Gist explained. "Three of my sons have Master's degrees. I don't want them to say, 'Oh, mother's all right, she can take the brunt, but you see what I mean.'"

"But I can cook pretty well too," she reflected.

In her one year of scholastic work at Claremont, she wrote and typed a 25,000 word thesis on "Loretta as a Part of Nature" based on her studies in six seminars, two in the history of philosophy, one each in Greek architecture and Roman history, in Roman literature and in Latin, "without missing a class all year," she admitted proudly.

Ever that beam, a delightful chuckle and a friendly understanding smile greet her visitors in a tiny apartment at Seaview Lodge. Spotless, the little room is much like that of many co-eds, except that in the place of "boy friends" there are those of her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

DEMONSTRATION OF CANNING PLANNED

Jerseyville—The Jersey county Division of Household Science is sponsoring a canning demonstration which will be held at the Baptist church basement Wednesday afternoon, June 12, at 2 o'clock. The demonstration will be given by Miss Mary Handlin, a home economics teacher who has had Blaisdell. Present at the exercises were three of her children.

"I didn't want my boys to be ashamed of me," Mrs. Gist explained. "Three of my sons have Master's degrees. I don't want them to say, 'Oh, mother's all right, she can take the brunt, but you see what I mean.'"

"But I can cook pretty well too," she reflected.

Alexander shoppers in the city Saturday included Mrs. Lester Martin.

E. C. Sams Will Give I. C. Commencement Address on Monday

President of Large Store Company Will Speak to Graduates of 1935

Earl Corder Sams, nationally known business executive and president of the J. C. Penney Company, will deliver the commencement address to the graduating class of Illinois College on Monday, June 10.

Mr. Sams' address is certain to be one of timely importance to young men and women about to embark on their chosen careers. Mr. Sams knows the America of today as do few other men. His widespread business interests keep him in the closest possible contact with economic conditions in all sections of the country and in every type of community. These contacts, together with his keen interest in young people and his genial personality, make him singularly well fitted to deliver a final message to the graduates of 1935.

Mr. Sams was born at Simpson, Kas., in 1867. He spent most of his boyhood in Deloit, Kas., and entered the employ of J. C. Penney as a clerk in the Kemptville, Wyo. store in 1907.

Ten years later, in 1917, Mr. Penney was elected chairman of the board of directors of the Penney Company and Mr. Sams was elected president. The company has grown by leaps and bounds under his wise and capable administration.

Mr. Sams has a sincere belief in the Golden Rule as applied to business, and an unshaken confidence in the ability of the American people to meet and solve the problems arising from changing economic and social conditions.

Mr. Sams is of English descent and a Presbyterian. He is a member of the Board of National Missions of the Presbyterian Church in America, and of the National Council of the Y.M.C.A. Among his business connections he is one of the executive committee of the Bank of the Manhattan Company. He is also a member of the United States Chamber of Commerce and a trustee of Western University at Salina, Kas.

JOAN OF ARC RIDES AGAIN!

Banners waved, trumpets blared and the pages of history magically turned back five centuries as Joan of Arc rode again over the cobble streets of Carthage, France, in a colorful pageant commemorating the feat of arms by which the sainted Maid of Orleans drove the English from the city in 1430. This interesting photo of the ceremony shows the "Maid" in shining armor astride her charger passing the city's ancient cathedral.

Reception and Dinner Draw Former Graduates Back For Graduate Season

Jerseyville.—The forty-fifth annual reception and banquet of the Jerseyville High School Alumni Association was given Thursday evening, June 6, at the Presbyterian church in honor of the graduating class of the local high school.

The reception honoring the special guests was held in parlors of the church from 6:45 to 7:30 o'clock, at which time the line of march was formed, headed by the graduates.

The banquet was served in the dining room where the class colors of turquoise blue and old rose were used with a profusion of seasonable flowers for decorations. Music was furnished by a trio composed of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Case and Olin Miller.

The invocation was asked by Rev. W. A. Steinkraus, pastor of the Baptist church. Louis H. Brockman, master of ceremonies, read a telegram from Attorney Marion L. ### WON'T SELL DIZZY

Delaware, O., June 8.—(P)—Dizzy Dean and his latest run in with the management of the St. Louis Cardinals, aren't worrying Branch Rickey, vice president and business manager of the world champions.

"Dizzy is not for sale and he won't be traded," opined the baseball mogul, here to attend the graduation Monday of Branch, Jr., and his daughter Mary from Ohio Wesleyan, of which he is a trustee.

"In spite of all his talking, we like Dizzy and he likes us. We won't sell him for any amount of money. We expect to go ahead with our team as it is in our fight to retain the league championship."

Revamped Cardinals Capture Double Header From Chicago Cubs; Collins Hits Home Run

St. Louis, June 8.—(P)—A revamped lineup brought dividends today to manager Frankie Frisch as his Cardinals snapped out of a three-game losing streak to nose out the Chicago Cubs in a double-header before a Ladies' Day crowd of 20,000. The world champions took the first game 5 to 4, and eked out another one-run victory in the eleven-inning nightcap, 6 to 5.

Seeking to improve his club's waning batting average, Frisch returned to second base, shifted Pepper Martin to center field, put Whitehead at third, and benched Captain Leo Durocher, the shortstop, in favor of Charlie Gelbert. It was Gelbert's first start since the 1932 season, when the hard-hitting infielder suffered a hunting accident that kept him out of baseball for two years.

Gelbert went hitless during the first game, but his slow rolling surprise bunt in the sixth inning paved the way for two runs that later proved the margin of triumph. He was replaced by Durocher in the eighth inning of the second game.

Wild pitches, wild throws, and fumbles by the Chicago pitchers, Lonnie Warneke and Tex Carleton, led to three Cardinals runs in the first game. Pidgety Phil Collins, who succeeded Paul Dean on the mound after the

Athletics Whip Senators 4 To 3

Washington, June 8.—(P)—Philadelphia put on a three run rally in the ninth inning today to defeat Washington, 4-3, and even up their current series.

The second game of the scheduled double header was called off on account of wet grounds. The first game was played in a continuous drizzle.

The Senators scored two in the second inning on three singles and a long fly and added another in the ninth. Washington lost its chance of winning the game or sending it into extra innings when Powell flied out with two on base.

Cards Rank 2-3 In National Bat Race

Pepper Martin Is Second And Joe Medwick Climbs Up To Third Place

New York.—(P)—Bob Johnson of the Athletics and Arky Vaughan of Pittsburgh continued to resist all challenges to their batting supremacy in the major leagues during the past week but the real interest in the struggle during the past seven days came from the efforts of some of their lower-ranking rivals to overtake them.

Johnson brought his average up two points to .406 after yesterday's games, hitting ten times in 24 attempts during the week while Vaughan dropped a point to the even .400 level with five blows in 13 times up. There wasn't much in their doings that was sensational except Johnson's home run hitting spurt which brought his total up to 14.

On the other hand Joe Medwick of the Cardinals registered a big gain for the second straight week, picking up 25 points for a .347 average to take third place in the National league's list of leading "regulars." Johnson's rookie teammate, Wally Moses, moved into second place in the Junior circuit at .337, closely followed by Detroit's consistent Charley Gehring.

Medwick turned in the best effort of any of the leaders, hitting safely 13 times in 27 attempts but he finished 30 points behind another Cardinal, Pepper Martin, who easily retained second place despite a 12 point loss.

Indians Wallop Browns 3 To 2

Cleveland, June 8.—(P)—The Cleveland Indians scored a 3 to 2 victory today over the St. Louis Browns before a crowd of approximately 5,000 persons.

Knickerbocker, Tribe shortstop, tallied in the initial inning on a single by Trosky. Knickerbocker had doubled.

Mel Harder, Cleveland hurler, scored in the third inning when Voornik forced Knickerbocker, Bejma to Strange. Campbell brought in the Tribe's third marker in the fourth after doubling in left field. Harder's single accounted for the tally.

Bejma doubled past third in the sixth and scored on a single by West. The latter reached home on Burnett's single to center.

Home Town Boy Comes From Behind to Win Honors Over America's Best Shotmakers

Oakmont Country Club, Pittsburgh, June 8.—(P)—The home town boy made good today as Samuel Parks, Jr., youthful Pittsburgh professional, came from behind to conquer America's foremost shotmakers and capture the national open golf championship in a stumbling, rain-soaked finish to the celebrated "battle of Oakmont."

Never before a winner in any major tournament, only four years out of the University of Pittsburgh, where he captained the golf team and only two weeks short of his 26th birthday, Parks pulled the biggest surprise victory since Johnny Goodman, the Omaha amateur, galloped off with the crown three years ago.

The only player in the all-star field to rack 300 on Oakmont's terrifying, storm-tossed layout, Parks posted successive rounds of 77, 73, 73, 76 for an aggregate of 299 for the 72-hole route. He won by two strokes from Jimmy Thomson, the California "red gun," who twice tossed away four-stroke leads over the hometown favorite and took part in a general blow-up in the stretch. Thomson finished second with rounds of 73, 73, 77 and 78 for a total of 301 as he allowed one of the best championship chances in his career slip away from him.

Thomson three-putted two of the last three greens, the 16th and 18th as he lost his final opportunity to overhaul his Pittsburgh rival in the day's most exciting finishing duel.

Such drama as there is, however, in an otherwise dismal finish was furnished by none other than the 42-year-old former champion, Walter Hagen. While the other favorites faltered and fumbled throughout the final round, the old master gave a gallery of upwards of 7,500 spectators the day's biggest thrill as he gallantly tried to overhaul the new champion. The "Hail" staggered and lost control of himself finally but he rallied at the last to come with a 76 for an aggregate of 302 and third place.

Hagen started the final 36 holes three strokes behind Parks. He still trailed by three strokes as he matched the Pittsburgher's morning round 73. He made up this deficit with one to spare as he started with even fours for the first four holes of the final round but he skidded into a pair of fives on two comparatively easy holes and it was again an uphill struggle. Out in 37, even par, Hagen had sliced Parks' margin to two shots. But over the last nine holes he gave ground to the old master but he wasn't equal to it in the rain and with the sun beginning to tell.

Quickly his chances faded as he lost four strokes to par and Parks on as many holes of the incoming nine. As a parting gesture, he bagged a birdie on No. 17 to save third place and a bigger "cut" in prize money. He got the day's biggest ovation from the crowd when he walked off the last green, remarking to a friend: "It was just a little bit too much for the old man."

Yankees Split With Red Sox

Boston, June 8.—(P)—The Yankees slugged Wes Ferrell and three successors for a 12 to 6 triumph today in the first half of a doubleheader played before a 23,000 crowd, but Fritz Ostermuller outpointed Vernon Gomez 4 to 3 in a left handed pitching duel and the Red Sox got an even break for the day.

The Sox seemed just as strong in the nightcap as they were weak in the opener although Manager Joe Cronin retired to the bench in this game to rest his bruised heel and Max Bishop played short.

Ostermuller limited the league leaders to six hits and made three of Boston's seven blows off his southpaw rival. He was pitching his first game since he was hit on the face by Hank Greenberg's batted ball May 25, Gomez, who suffered his seventh defeat of the season, was wild throughout, issued eight passes and gave the Sox two runs when he uncorked a wild pitch in the fifth.

Lou Gehrig, playing his 1,599th consecutive big league game today, nearly had his record broken when he collided with Carl Reynolds in the first inning of the opener when he dived for a wild peg by Bill Dickey. He injured his right shoulder in the plunge and rested five minutes before returning to action to take an important part in the Yankee slugging. He finally gave up his place to Jack Saltzgaver in the seventh, but played all through the second contest.

The Yanks settled the opener when they belted Wes Ferrell out to score five runs on five hits and an error by Rick Ferrell. Gehrig roused his seventh homer of the season behind a double by Ben Chapman.

New York finished the job in the seventh, manufacturing another five-run inning at the expense of Rookie Harold (Hy) Vandenberg, who gave up four hits and a walk without recording a batsman.

Gomez's wild pitch was the deciding factor in the second contest. With the score tied at 1-1 the Sox loaded the bases on a pass to Babe Dahlgren. Ostermuller's single, sacrifice and an intentional walk to Bill Werber. Dahlgren was forced at the plate on Mel Almada's grounder, but with two out Gomez heaved a wild one and failed to cover the plate when Catcher Arndt Jorgens chased Averill, off the ball back to the screen and hustled there. As a result Werber foliated Ostermuller across the plate with what proved to be the deciding run.

Helen Wills Is Still Winning

By Gayle Talbot.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Weybridge, Eng., June 8.—(P)—Betting commissioners, who a week ago were offering 4 to 1 against Mrs. Helen Wills Moody's chance at Wimbledon, cut their odds to 2 to 1 today after watching her defeat Mrs. Elsie Goldsack Pittman in the final round of the St. George's Hill tournament, 6-0, 6-4.

Dorothy Round, top-ranking British star, remained the Wimbledon favorite at 11 to 8 with Helen Jacobs, American champion, held at 2 to 1 along with Mrs. Moody.

Returning to competition in the St. George's tournament for the first time since a back injury forced her to default to Miss Jacobs in the American championships two years ago, Mrs. Moody reached the peak of her form in the first set of her match with Mrs. Pittman. Her forehand drives into the back corners had the English star on the defense from the outset.

Once in command, the Californian seldom bothered even to run after her rival's best returns. Perhaps half of the points Mrs. Pittman won were on placements which Mrs. Moody made no real effort to reach.

Smiling in the club house after her victory, Mrs. Moody said: "My game seems to be coming back to me. My back? I think we can forget about that."

Mrs. Moody seems to have lost the "killer" instinct which, in former times, made her win every match 6-0, 6-0, if she could.

As in other matches this week, she let up in the second set. When she really wanted a decisive point, she simply belted the ball down the sidelines.

Mrs. Moody's only other "warm-up" competition before Wimbledon will come in the Kent championships next week.

Miss Pearl Cadwell of Pittsfield was shopping in Jacksonville Saturday.

Redlegs Punch Out 7 To 5 Victory Over Illinois College Nine

Blueboys Drive Payne Under Cover But Sporer Finishes; Calvin's Homer Brings Tie

Baseball is right down the Jacksonville State Hospital alley as far as their rivalry with Illinois College is concerned. The Redlegs are willing to confess an inferior basketball team, but their baseball lads rallied behind the sterling relief pitching of Big Bill Sporer to hand the Blueboys their fifth loss of the season in the final game before a large crowd, 7 to 5 after a ding-dong battle. Each team collected six hits, the Blueboys driving Payne, new Redleg flinger, to cover in three innings, but suffering away when Sporer took over the hill.

Joe Calvin's home run, with two men on the paths, followed by Payne's double after Sporer had walked in the fifth inning, were the blows that gave the Redlegs the victory. Each team scored in the opening frame, Illinois jumped into the lead in the third when two hits coupled with several misuses by the Redlegs gave them four runs, but they were unable to break across the plate during the remainder of the game.

John "Red" Duffner, 1935 captain of the U. of I. baseball team, slated to take third for the Redlegs, was unable to get in the game because of a Big Ten conference ruling prohibiting athletes in big Ten schools from participating in games at which an admission is charged. Athletic Director LaRue Van Meter telephoned George Huff, University of Illinois athletic director, to get a direct ruling on the case in question, and informed Duffner that Huff believed participation in the game would cause inelegibility.

Russ Davis, the Blueboy mound ace who wound up a bad year, began to show some semblance of the form he had been a year ago when he topped the pitching staff. He walked nine men, but his pitching was more steady. Davis whiffed seven, and allowed hits in three of the nine frames.

His first hit of wildness cost him a run, however, in the first inning when Beley walked, went to second on Mangieri's miscue while trying to handle a throw, moved to third on Barnes' sacrifice, and scored on a wild pitch. Bubun was caught out at the plate when the Blueboys made their first double killing of the year. Pacotti smacked Calvin's fly in center-field and throwing Bubun out at home.

Illinois got the first run back in their half of the first. Wedel, a freshman, flung in for the absent Eddie Red in the batting order, walking, moving to second on Taylor's sacrifice, and to third on Colin's single. Then a bit of wild playing, topped by an error at second, let Wedel home. But the first didn't hold a candle to the third for wild playing. Davis shook through the second by leaving two men stranded on the corners, and was a bit firmer in the Redleg half of the third, one man getting left.

Blueboys Get Four

The Blueboy flinger started the third inning rally when he went to first on a dropped fly ball in right field. Wedel attempted to sacrifice him to second, but was safe at first when D'Gense threw over Beley's head. Taylor sent the tosser over the plate with a double to left, Wedel, pulling up at third, from where he scored after Colin's fly to deep left. Kline shot a roller to Bubun, but the Redleg shortstop made a bad toss trying to catch Taylor, and the Blueboy shortstop fied across the plate. Pacotti fied to center, but Mangieri banged a double against the gym to send Kline home with the fourth run.

FAN :: BREEZES

Ernest Savage

Old Mexico's baseball champions, enroute to Lewistown where they are scheduled to play Sunday, dropped in here Saturday afternoon for a few minutes.

Old Mexico has decided to take over a lot of amateur and semi-pro sports and send out representative teams on good will missions. The team sent to the United States was outfitted by the government, according to their spokesman, Erasmo Flores. The team is scheduled to play 60 games in 70 days.

The team is composed entirely of Mexican youths and travels in a 22 passenger bus. They appeared at Belleville Friday.

That reminds us of the Mexico Falls basketball team which came to Illinois College a couple years ago. They were not such excellent basketball players, but they were good sports and good entertainers.

John "Red" Duffner is protecting his amateur standing this summer. He told State Hospital authorities that he would be unable to appear with the Redleg baseball team Saturday against Illinois College because of a Big Ten ruling, and he didn't appear in the line-up. He was there to lend his moral support, however.

The Big Ten is a little more strict about its summer rules than the Little 19. No Big Ten athletes of any kind may appear in any exhibition at which an admission is charged. That's why stadium buildings have been carried on during the summer, and the boys from the universities work in summer camps.

George Genetos, another local lad who is making his mark at the University, had an opportunity to work in a summer camp this year but rejected the chance. Genetos won his numerals in basketball during the winter. He will become eligible for varsity squads next year.

Jim Winn, who finished fourth in the Little 19 batting race with an average of .435 for the season, is due to report to the Eau Claire club in the Northern Wisconsin league June 15.

Two other Blueboys, Roy Colin, who graduated, and Tom Kline third sacker, finished in the list of the first 28. Colin had an average of .381 and Kline an average of .350.

Augie D'Gense, State Hospital catcher, and Tony Pacotti, College outfielder, had a little contest all of their own Saturday. Pacotti got Augie's goat by stealing second and third on him in the second inning, so Augie came back with a strike-out when Tony came up the first time he faced Sporer. Augie walked out to the mound to tell Sporer something, and three curves came over, all of them strikes. But Tony got on the next time, and fled out to center the last time he appeared. Both boys took their prep school work at Routh high.

Larry Dale, Woodstock high school coach, and "Red" Taylor, coach at Manito last year, were among the spectators at the ball game. There probably were a lot of other former I. C. athletes present, but we just happened to notice these boys.

Don Paurot, whose opening blast of chatter when he went to Missouri University was a protest against proselyting athletes, is going to have a number of boys from Southern Illinois in Mizou next year. We are not saying why the boys are going there, but it is said that a lot of them from the Big Eleven conference are lending ears to Mizou emissaries.

Lloyd A. Dornier, assistant coach at North Central college for the past two years, has been named coach at Olsena Park high school next year. Mack Gilbert, Eastern Illinois graduate, has been named coach at Mt. Carmel, in the other end of the state. Gilbert was in Arizona last year, coaching.

Big Bill Sporer did some neat relief hurling Saturday at the college despite a heavy cold which has been hanging on for several weeks. The Redleg flinger is talking about sun baths and things like that to shake the cold.

The facts were that a lot of the college ball players were feeling the effects of the senior ball the night before. Despite the late hours, the boys had a lot of pep on the field. They also were not bothered by the loss of a couple regulars.

Beryl Heraty made a sensational stop in the second when he ran about 35 yards and snatched a blow by Mangieri out of the hit column and put it in the putout list. Pacotti featured for the Blueboys with a run and jump catch of a blow labelled home run by Sporer before he sent it careening to center. Ray Smith picked off another, not as difficult but just as low flying, on the next out.

Mrs. Marian Grimes of Waverly was a caller in Jacksonville Saturday afternoon.

Hard and Soft Ball Leagues are Planned

Y. M. Secretary Announces Plans For This Summer Here

Although baseball enthusiasm is slow in getting under way this year, Y. M. C. A. Secretary Hermann announces that there are prospects for several leagues as soon as the weather makes operation of a schedule possible. These will include hard ball and "kitten" ball (playground or soft ball).

Three teams have indicated that they want to get into the Twilight League, which has been invited to use the State hospital grounds again. These are Smith's Indians, Myers Bros., and the State hospital team. Another team is needed, and the group which met in Len Magill's office last night is sending out an "SOS" for some one to undertake the organization of such a team. Any team or organization or manager who would like to fill the berth are asked to get in touch with Mr. Hermann of the Y. M. C. A.—phone 179. It is planned to arrange a schedule of two games per team per week, the games to start within ten days, if possible, and continue until the middle of August.

Another group of slightly "lesser lights" would like to get into the North Side League, playing on the high school diamond. Teams which have indicated that they would like to get into that league are the Lynnville club, the Ice and Cold Storage Co., probably last year's American Legion team (who are now too old to classify as Legion Juniors), and others.

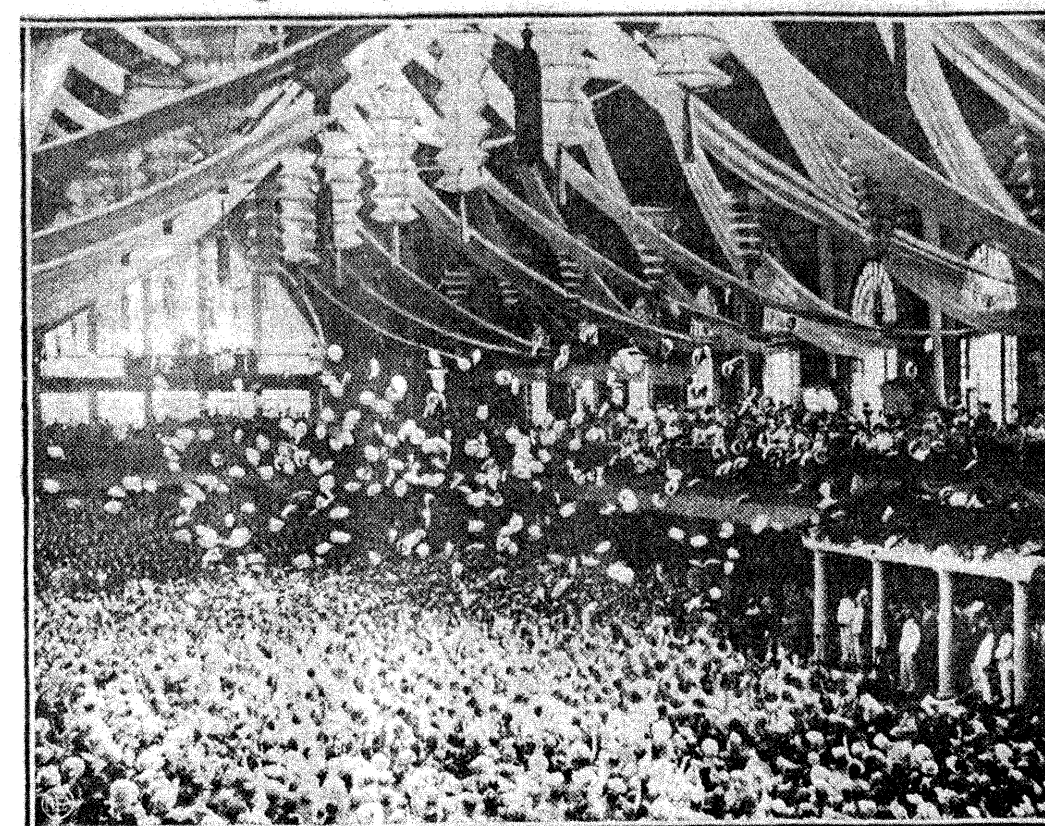

And with Nichols park diamond available, there is opportunity for still other teams to play twilight ball at that place. There has been some inquiry about a young men's league and it is hoped that such a league can be formed.

A league for boys between 12 and 15 years of age, to play forenoon, will be sponsored by the DeMolay under the direction of Mr. Hollowell, and another for boys of the grade schools will be under the direction of Mr. Hermann of the Y. M. C. A., assisted by John Ward. Boys are urged to get their teams into shape as announcement will be made shortly of the meeting to plan the schedule.

Quite a number of teams are planning to get into the Kitten Ball League for which it is hoped to provide lights for night games. Among the teams which are "raring to go" are the Clothing Workers, the Shoe Workers, the Fox Illinois, Brown's Business College, K. of C., Piggly Wiggly, A. & P., and several others.

Any teams or individuals that are interested in getting into any of these leagues are asked to communicate with Mr. Hermann of the Y. M. C. A. at his home, 205 East Beecher, or phone 179.

Hats Flung Away, for Middies Are Ensigns Now

A shower of midshipmen's hats flung far aloft to the accompaniment of thunderous cheers resounding in the great auditorium and another class of the U. S. Naval Academy was started on its active career. The ceremony, symbolic of school days' end and an old custom of the Navy, followed presentation of diplomas to the new ensigns, 216 receiving commissions in the colorful rites.

FINAL WARNING TO BE SERVED ON CHINA SOON

Publication of reports of Sino-Japanese tension was prohibited here in an effort to hold down public uneasiness.

In addition to the removal of all Chinese troops, Japanese demands, which had almost the character of an ultimatum, were described unofficially as including:

1. Replacement of all officials in North China objectionable to the Japanese army.
2. Closing of all offices of the Kuomintang (Chinese national government party) in North China.
3. Abolition of the North China political training section of the Chinese military council.
4. Dissolution of anti-Japanese organizations in North China.
5. Complete suppression of "anti-Japanese education" in Chinese schools through China.
6. Destruction of Chinese books containing anti-Japanese or "anti-puppet regime" (the Pseudo-Independent, Japanese-created empire of Manchoukuo) passages.

Officers enroute to Peiping were Major-Gen. Rensuk Isawa, Japanese military attaché at Shanghai, Col. Sakai, chief of staff of the Japanese garrison in North China, Major Ohki, staff officer, and Capt. Ohhira, an officer attached at Nanjing.

Chairman Harrison of the finance committee who is in charge of the resolution for the administration, was confident that he could ward off the attack and gain some approval of the house amendment without serious delay. Fully realizing that the old law will expire at the end of next week, Harrison planned to resist the attempt to send the measure back to committee.

Parole Officer Has Asked Pitts To Go

Advices Him to Accept Offer of Business Man in Middle West

Albany N. Y.—(AP)—Frederick A. Moran, executive director of the state division of parole, stepped into the controversy over the professional baseball status of Edwin C. (Alabama) Pitts today, saying he "would rather see" the former Sing Sing prison athlete accept a job in the mid-west.

Coupling his statement with a warning against a "swelled head," Moran, emphasized that the division did not oppose baseball as a new career for Pitts.

"The division of parole," he said, "is not out to throw cold water on what baseball may have in store for Pitts. However, he has a position awaiting his acceptance in the mid-west, one that points to a good future in business. We are interested in his progress whether it be in baseball or in any other field."

Moran added to the board "Pitts is just another parolee" and will have to govern his conduct according to parole regulations.

Moran's remarks followed the decision of the Albany baseball club of the International league to protest officially the ban placed on Pitts by W. C. Bramham of the National Association of Minor Professional Baseball Leagues.

Bramham's ruling caused a wave of protest from both players and fans throughout the country and a speedy hearing on the protest was promised Albany officials. The hearing, by the executive committee of the association, probably will be held in New York City next week.

From Burning Home at Roodhouse Saturday

Roodhouse—Awakened when embers from the attic dropped upon her face, Mrs. J. Hansberger was able to escape from her burning home here Saturday morning. The two-story residence on East Franklin street was badly damaged before the blaze was brought under control by the fire department.

Mrs. Hansberger, although crippled by rheumatism, was able to make her way to safety. She was burned on her face and one hand.

The fire broke out at 6:45 o'clock, after Mr. Hansberger lit an oil stove in the kitchen, and then went to the business district. Before he returned the interior of the house was in flames. Firemen said the oil stove exploded.

Rumors About AAA Are Set Aside By Wallace's Answer

Farm Bureau Advised That Farm Contracts Stand
Despite Decision

Rumors and whisperings predicting the wiping out of AAA programs and contracts in Morgan and other counties are false and can be dismissed as such, judging from an official statement which Secretary of Agriculture Wallace has just issued with the approval of President Roosevelt.

Farm Adviser J. E. Paredi has just received a copy of the statement as it was received from Washington by the extension service of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

The statement was issued to set aside rumors and false reports which have been afloat since the recent U. S. Supreme Court decision on the N.R.A. These rumors have attempted to mislead farmers into believing that the AAA would soon be wiped out, and that farm contracts would be null and void. In some cases farmers were falsely told that they might as well plant as much corn as they wished and otherwise drop their AAA contracts.

Secretary Wallace's statement in refutation of such rumors follows:

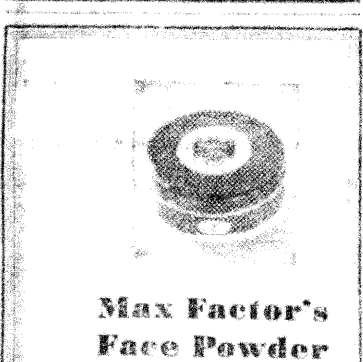

"In cooperation with leaders of Congress amendments to the Agricultural Adjustment Act are being prepared which are intended to bring the act's provisions into line with the Supreme Court decision and also to safeguard the farmers' voluntary adjustment program on basic commodities. These voluntary adjustment programs were not in the path of the Schechter case decision and in no event could there be any question of the government's ability to fulfill its contracts with farmers. Nevertheless, we have taken advantage of the decision to seek perfection in the law which will make certain the government's authority to continue processing tax rates in accordance with amended provisions of the act."

Wabash Train Hits Car at North Main And Four are Hurt

Three Mercedosa Residents
Able to Go Home After Medical Treatment

Four persons were slightly injured Friday afternoon when the car in which they were riding was struck by a westbound Wabash freight train at the North Main street intersection. The car was crossing the tracks as Freight No. 73 was pulling into the city. The engine struck the rear of the car and overturned it.

The machine was occupied with residents of the Mercedosa community and was driven by Miss Louise Hale. She escaped unharmed.

Four others in the car, all receiving minor cuts and bruises, were J. S. Hale, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Evemeyer, and Luther J. Rice.

The injured persons were removed to Our Saviour's hospital where Dr. R. M. Norris gave medical attention. All were able to leave and return to Mercedosa except Mrs. Evemeyer, who remained until Saturday morning when she also returned home. Miss Hale drove the car back to Mercedosa as it was practically undamaged.

The freight was moving into the city at a reduced rate of speed. The Mercedosa car was almost across the track when the engine struck the rear. The train was in charge of Conductor Claypool and Engineer Vannier.

One of the men in the car had a badly cut hand. Others received cuts and bruises more or less serious and painful. Mrs. Evemeyer was badly shaken up by the accident.

Success Story

Are you a merchant? Mr. Frank Higgins is a merchant, too. He runs a store about the size of yours down southern Indiana way. Anyway, his name could be Frank Higgins.

Last fall Mr. Higgins hit on a peach of an idea to boost sales. It called for advertising in the daily paper and so he worked out his plan, bought his space, let go with both barrels and cashed in handsomely. Now—ordinarily—no one outside his home town ever would have heard of Mr. Higgins' "Success Story." But Meyer Both (the advertising service people in Chicago) read a good many hundred newspapers every day. Mr. Higgins' home town daily is among them.

They learned all about his "ten-strike," figured you could cash in on it, too, and put the whole plan, ads and all, into the Meyer Both Advertising Service (in the Daily Journal and Courier office at present writing.) It will pay you to get acquainted with the Meyer Both Advertising Service. It's available only to Journal and Courier advertisers and it's another reason why Daily Journal and Courier advertising gets results. There's many a "Success Story" in each issue of the service—some advertising plan that has already gotten extra business for some merchant somewhere—and can just as well get extra business for you!
